

SPRINGER E-Books

AISTI would like to offer our consortial agreement for Springer E-Books to the ESIG members. There will be no fee to ESIG members to be part of this license agreement, there is just more power in numbers, so pairing up will help everyone!

Springer will offer their E-Books through AISTI for a 30% - 45% discount. The only requirement is that the order be placed through AISTI or Springer and not a book vendor.

This is just a one year license and does not obligate schools to buy anything further, also the e-books are purchased and not leased.

P.S. In order for ESIG to take advantage of this offer they will have to be an AISTI member, and this year we can waive the Associate Member fee, so we can see how this license agreement works out. This has to do with Fair Trade Practices for the open market and how members of non-profits, as long as they are members, can take advantage of offers not presented to the public.
